

A young girl with long black hair in a ponytail is sitting on a thick, gnarled tree branch. She is wearing a colorful, patterned top and light blue pants with a long pink sash. Her hands are resting on her cheeks, and she has a thoughtful or sad expression. The background shows a large tree with green leaves and a clear blue sky.

However, as the days passed with each sunrise and sunset, Emperor Yan didn't have time to take Nü Wa to see the sunrise. The Emperor was very busy. Along with teaching his people how to properly farm their land, he was also occupied with finding out the medical uses of different plants to cure illness. Emperor Yan had no spare time for his daughter.

The ocean was puzzled, “Why do you hate me so much?” Jingwei cried out, “You took my life and you will take more innocent lives in the future. I will never stop and one day, I will fill you up and turn you into land!”

Jingwei and her children and the children of all her children continued their actions to fill up the ocean. Even today, we can still see the little “Jingwei bird” continue its tireless work throwing stones and branches into the sea.

